

Establishment of Automotive Parts Manufacturing Company in Shiga

Toyota Boshoku Corporation (Headquarters: Kariya-city, Aichi, Japan President: Shuhei Toyoda) announced the establishment of a new automotive parts manufacturing company, Toyota Boshoku Shiga Corporation, located in Koka city, Shiga prefecture, Japan. This new company will manufacture automotive filter and power train components, interior components, and exterior components.

After the merger in October 2004, Toyota Boshoku has promoted reorganization of plants in Japan to optimize production efficiency. The new company is established for the purpose to correspond to the expansion of Daihatsu Motor Co., Ltd. business. Also, to improve the service toward the customer and to reduce logistics cost by producing near the customer.

This new company is the first production site, mainly manufactures the variety of plastic molding products only for Daihatsu Motor Co., Ltd. The production starts from August 2007 and delivers to Shiga Plant, Kyoto Plant, Ikeda Plant and Nishinomiya Parts Center of Daihatsu Motor Co., Ltd.
